As detailed in the Bylaws, all Directors are democratically elected by members of the Cooperative; the Board of Directors then appoints the officers. Therefore, the ultimate control over the Cooperative always resides with the membership at large, and no officer or Director has power to overrule the majority of the members.

None of the Cooperative's current officers and Directors hold any ownership interest in, hold any position on any board of, or are employed by any other entity, for-profit or non-profit, that holds, has ever held or seeks to acquire any kind of spectrum license or engages in any other line of business that is regulated by FCC.
